

OFFSHORE SHUTDOWN SERVICES

SPECIALIST CLEANING SERVICES, WASTE TRANSFER & WASTE MANAGEMENT SERVICES

A black and white photograph of a worker in a full-body white protective suit, including a hood and respirator mask. The worker is holding a long-reach tool and is positioned inside a large, cylindrical industrial structure, possibly a tunnel or a large pipe. The background shows the interior of the structure with various pipes and structural elements.

" From OIM's, HSE Advisors, Op's Supervisors etc, I keep hearing nothing but great comments on both your teams attitude and performance. They have all commented on your team, saying they are a pleasure to work with, which is somewhat unheard of in this industry nowadays "

Offshore Construction Supervisor

North Sea

" I had planned at least 12 hours for this sea water tank using my own crew, and your lads came on and complete it in 1.5 hours. An excellent job done by them, with very minimal mess."

Maintenance Superintendant

North Sea

" The feedback has been fantastic on the professionalism from both sides of your team, in the onshore preparation, offshore execution, reporting of scope progress and also the flexibility of your offshore team in completing additional scopes for us "

Operations Superintendent
North Sea

" The fact we have completed this scope in a short time period, completing 10 controlled vessel entries and safely disposing of large volumes of cleaned sand well within specification without HSE incident or any equipment issues is a great reflection on your team "

SPECIALIST CLEANING

MSIS has been a trusted choice for over 25 years in the UKCS. Unlike many multi-service offshore providers, MSIS is purely an offshore cleaning, waste transfer and waste management specialist.

Focusing on what we know best, has ensured our clients receive a fit-for-purpose service and equipment offering, combined with a longstanding technical capability and project support team. Resulting in delivering scopes in the shortest timescale with the most effective results, by comparison.
