PREMIER TRANSFER SYSTEM (PTS)

With over seven year's track record of use in the North Sea, the Premier Transfer System (PTS) is one of the most powerful units on the market and is primarily used for deep vertical waste removal within confined spaces, including FPSO cargo oil and slop tanks.

- All our equipment operate at high transfer rates to reduce project time
- By reducing the requirement for man hours, our innovative kit has proven to minimise the Persons on Board (POB) requirement
- All our kit create safer working environments leading to improved HSE performance
- These closed loop systems actively reduce risk of environmental incidents
- Waste material is removed in its raw state; no additional fluidisation is required for transfer

PRODUCT INFORMATION

OVERVIEW

Using air flow conveyance techniques, the PTS can efficiently transfer a variety of waste products from depths of up to 55 m into skips ready for shipment to shore. The PTS also reduces the requirement for confined space entry, as a result minimising the health and safety risks to personnel on board.

With an established reputation for quality, reliability and service, we do not let our clients down. Our ESR team is available 24/7 to ensure the provision of a rapid response service, ensuring that we consistently meet our clients' operational objectives.
